JAS. R. MORRIS, PROPRIETOR. WOODSFIELD, OHIO, JUNE 18, 1851.

By reference to the telegraph column it will be seen that another fire has taken place in Beallsville, in this county, supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Is it possible that the villain or villains cannot be found out? Let the whole community be on the alert.

CONSTITUTION ELECTION.

At the time our paper goes to press, we havere ceived returns but from the following townships in this county:

NEW	CONSTITUTION.		LICENSE.
Leonary (gill )	Yes.	No.	Yes.
Centre	223	65	157	112
Sunsbury	25 maj.			21 m

Franklin	62	75	39	93
Washington	98	27	92	28
Benton	113	4		The same
Summit	85	62	87	57

We are of opinion that the majority in this county for the new constitution will reach 800.

MAGAZINES .- The July Nos. of "Graham's Magazine" and "Godey's Lady's Book" are received. They are excellent numbers-still maintaining their character among the best periodicals of the day.

THE OHIO TEACHER .- Nos. 13 and 14 of the Ohio Teacher, published semimonthly by Thomas Rainey at $1 per ity against new constitution 64, for no liyear, in advance, has been received. THE CENSUS.

The census table which we published in our last reveals some instructive facts. ty against constitution 63, against license One is, that, notwithstanding the continual 108. recruits from the South by "the underground railroad" and otherwise, the num-ber of colored persons in New England has diminished 402 since 1840. In New Hampshire, Vermont, and Connecticut, there are less colored persons now than there were 30 years ago. The greatest falling off is in John P. Hale's State, where since 1790 (sixty years) the number of colored persons has diminished from 788 to 477, or about two fifths. There is also a loss of 2,579 in the State of New York within the last ten years. Massachusetts and Rhode Island are the only New England States where the colored population has increased since 1840, viz: Massachu-

1,066,294,or 65 per ct. The constant drain of white population to the Great West and everywhere else is not fully balanced by the immigration from Europe. Yet the increase in 36 years is 65 per cent. With a constant influx of colored persons into New England from the South, runaways and others, the in- derful deposits of mineral coal at Straitscrease of that description of population in ville, Perry county, Ohio, which exceeds 30 years is only 61 per cent. Whence anything of the kind before discovered in March 10th 1851. this difference?

Observe the head of Latayette; in the genuine there is a flourish or hair stroke, which is delicate and nearly touches the marginal border in which the head is encircled, whilst in the counterfeit it is coarse breaks off abruptly, and lacks the 16th of an inch of touching. Notice also the flourish above the word 'Cashier' which, in the genuine turns up and nearly touches the word Cincinnati whilst in the counterfeit it turns down.

O's, spurious. They have for a vignette a view of the ocean, and an eagle resting upon a shell. 10's letter B, vignette an eagle standing in a car, wings expanded. The engraving good, but pa-per bad. The bank har no such plates. 0's spurious. The vignette is two children seated, on the right end a full length portrait of Gen.

La Fayette. Payable to H. Peachen, Thomas
String and other persons, and of different dates.
The medallion head, with the word TEN stamped on it is very rough and indistinct.

10's, letter B, dated January 1st 1845. W. G. W. Gano, cash., with pale ink, G. Taylor Prest. Paper rather dark, general appearance good. 0's, close imitation of genuine; let. B. dated Jan. 4, 1844, pay C. Conaban: the toes of the female in the vignette imperfect, and the right hand of the Indian on the left end of the bill imperfect-00's st urious. The genuine bills have a red back.

Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Co .- 5's, spurious. Vignette a drove of cattle and a locomo tive and cars in the distance. Sandusdy City Bank-3's letter A. Description about the same as the description of the counter-feit 3's on the Commercial Bank of Cincinnati-State Bank of Ohio-5's, engraving coarse. The bill contains the red back; and on the back of the genuine it reads 'State Bank of Ohio;' on the counterteit it reads 'State of Ohio.

8's, 5's and 10's, sit from 1's and 2's; hold them up to the light and the alteration can be detected 190's, none higher than 50's issued. I's, letter D, imitation of genuine, engraving course; apparently lithographed; signatures lithographed; filling and date very prorly done. s, letter B payable at the Union Bank, Massif ion. Paper and engraving course.

5's, poorly done. The head of Franklin on the left end of the bill is badly engraved and the left eye is omitted. 10's, vignette a man on the left and a female on the right; railroad cars in the distance on the left; a large X in the centre of the vignette an eagle at the bottom. The words "State Bank of Ohio" larger than the genuine. de, general app arance calculated to deceive, but on examination and comparison with the genu-ing, will be found crude, and imperfect in detail. The prominent figures in the counterfeitare lacking in expression and careful minute, ness. Faces, hands, implements, &c., in the central vignette, are blurred and indistinct.— Portrait of Gen. Harrison on left hand end, obscure and undecided; in the genuine the figure is distinctly relieved from the back ground, the coat showing dark in color against it The dog's head on the bottom part, between the signatures, is rough and coarse, and the scrolls containing the words "Mutual Liabily" on either side, are faint, and smaller than the ganaine. The figure of Minerva on the right side, is perhaps one of the heat tests of comparisons in perhaps one of the best tests of comparison; in the genuine, the spear in the right hand of the figure, touches the letter T in Ten, above; while in the counterfeit it is midway between the letters T. and E; and on the breast-plate face is distinctly seen in the centre. The Ten, under the figure, is pale and weak in shading, but dark and plain in the genuine.

by the stur or areola (on the back) at the end of the bar enclosing the words "State Bank of Ohio;" being set in the centre of a square block. which is not so in the genuine.

Western Reserve bank - 10's, letter D. (Murray. Draper & Fairman's plate.) badly executed.

Date unknown. The worls Western Reserve Bank' are on the left, and 'Ohio' on the right hand margin; on the genuine notes they are the reverse. Signed Zalman Fitch.
